ERODIE TRIES A NEW BRIDGE.

A Cincinnati (Ohio) special says:

Steve Brodie, the bridge-jumper from

New York, leaped from the Cincinnati and Covington suspension bridge at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon into the river, a distance of eighty-two feet. In the morning an insane man leaped from the bridge at almost the same place and was drowned. Brodie's proposed feat was known only to a very few to prevent interference by the authorities.

At 3:45 P. M. a young man with a Bowery swagger, clad in a velveteen sack coat, striped tronsers, and patent-leather boots, left a Vine-street restau-rant, followed at some distance by a coterie of newspaper-men. Brodie carried a canvas-bag valise containing his wardrobs. The young man walked on to the bridge and looked over at the water. Though not in the centre of the bridge he was over the centre of the channel, which is about thirty feet deep and fifteen feet wide. A very brisk wind was blowing and the water was cold. A tug was secured by the friends of Brodie, and it was moved Persons living outside of Virginia have as a general rule taken little or no pains to learn the true condition of things here. Most of them content themselves with speaking in a patronizing way of and to the State, and adone hundred thousand voters who ing all the debt, or for paying any portion of it, depending upon whether or another of these propositions.

But the Baltimore Herald has not allowed itself to speak slightingly or load West Virginia certificates. patronizingly of the debt troubles of the good people of Virginia. It has, on the contrary, posted itself as to those troubles, and speaks as follows: "The British bondholders now pressing their claims on the people of Vir-ginia through Sir Edward Thornton should be careful lest, in exacting their pound of flesh, like Shylock of old they lose their case altogether. There are many thousands of Virginians already committed to repudiation, while the popular sentiment in favor of an honorable settlement of the State's indebtedness is being rapidly replaced by a determination to resist unfair and extortionate demands, even if repudiation has to be resorted to. Mahone is watching the game between the Britishers and the State for all he is worth, and it will not be at all surprising if the haughty demands of Sir Edward Thornton and the bondholders should lead to a repudiation boom that will enable Mahone to sweep the State."

It is much to be hoped that these famous mills will soon be put in (Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) these famous mills will soon be put in operation again on the scale of their former magnitude. It will be good for Richmond and for Virginia. It is well known that the flour of these mills stands the southern voyage better than any other, and is in high favor and demand in the markets of South America. This advantage enables them to pay a good price for the Virginia wheat, and this acts beneficially on the agricultural interests of Virginia. The wheat of the Northwest cannot to make the purpose named. Therefore the advantage of a large industry for Richmond will be supplemented by a supplemented as a supplemented supplemented as a sup

Besides, this business will enable Richmond to revive its import trade in coffee, sugar, licorice, and tropical products, which has somewhat languished of late, and to do a large jobbing business in those products. It was this of which we spoke the other day when we alluded to the former trade relations existing between Richmond and Lynch burg. The progress of Virginia in crime is one of the indisputable facts of this day. That is an evidence of our "higher civilization." In ante-bellum times negroes were too valuable to be sent to the penitentiary. They were then punished by stripes for many offences for which, now that they are as good as white folks, they have, like white folks, to serve out-a term in the penitentiary. Examine the Code of 1849, or that of 1860, and you will surely be surprised to find how often the phrase "if a free Is it not true that the sentiment in person" is used in speaking of crimes

PETERSBURG, May 3, 1897.

The Republican Convention to nominate candidates for the various offices in Dinwiddie met at the court-house vesterday at noon and remained in session all night. The nominations were not made until this morning. The con-test for the nomination for treasurer has long been a very hot one-the two aspirants for that position being Colonel W. M. Field, the present incumbent, and Mr. S. Y. Gilliam, the sheriff. The convention sat with closed doors, and the session is said to have been exceedingly boisterous. There were several duplicate sets of dele-gates and the contest over the respective claims of these to admission was long and animated. This was not set-tled until about sunrise this morning, with the convention finally constituted, as is reported, of twenty-two delegates in favor of Mr. Gilliam and twenty in favor of Colonel Field. The latter complained that there had not been fair play, and their candidate having declined to allow his name to go before the convention under the circumstances, the Field delegates withdrew in a body before any nominations had been made. They met outside and unanimously endorsed and nominated Colonel Field for treasurer. The Republican Convention, after the withdrawal of the Field delegates, made the following nominations: For Treasurer, S. Y. Gilliam : for Sheriff. Edward Coleman ; for Clerk, J. C. Spain; Commonwealth's-Attorney, A. T. Powell; Commissioners of Revenut-First district, Charles Abernathy Second district, James Keiser. At a meeting of the Ladies' Memo rial Association held last evening it was decided to change memorial-day here from the 9th of June, which has been observed ever since the war, to the 39th of May. A request to this effect, endorsed by Governor Lee, was made to the association. The Council last evening appropriated the sum of $200 to tid the association in their work, Sussex county issued $130,000 in bonds in aid of the construction of the Atlantic and Danville railroad, which bear interest at 6 per cent. This interest has been regularly paid. The county tax upon the road amounts to about $2,500 per annum. The number of pupils in the public schools is increasing so rapidly that the Council has deemed it necessary to enlarge the accommodations of several of the buildings. These improvements will be made in time for the next session. There was a sharp discussion in the Council last night in reference to the contract of the gas company for lighting the city. Intimations were made that the gas company had violated its contract in failing to furnish the city with the amount of light guaranteed, and a committee was appointed to examine into the matter and make a re port. The company, on the contrary, state that the full amount of light has been furnished.

OUR LITTLE GRANDCHILD

It afforts me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grand-hild by your tritters. REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large bell. We positived it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soen other sores formed. He then, had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more an I cure impure it look less time for them to breast out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was nis condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old of consumption (scroula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he foll down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA Soap freely, and no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP feeely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT his head was completely cured, and ha was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a boay matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out: then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The sears on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians and for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

A MAN'S ARM HEALED AFTER EIGHTEEN MONTHS' RUNNING FROM A SCALD.

Mr. T. P. JONES, the well-known engineer and machinist for James N. Boyd & Co., of this city, is known to our citizens as a man eminently worthy of belief. He gives his testimony as to his cure by S. S. S. Any citizen can interview him as to his remarkable case and get the details of the wonderful effect of S. S. S.

Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen,-I was an engineer on the Vicks burg. Shreveport and Pacific railroad four years ago, when my engine was turned over it an accident. The steam burned my right arm all around the elbow terribly. I had severa doctors trying to heal the arm, but in eightee months' trial they were unable to heal it. was unable to work much, or, indeed, hardly any. One day a friend suggested to me to try swift's Specific; and I did. A dozen bottles entirely healed the arm, since which sine I have been entirely well.

When I began taking S. S. S. I was thoroughly saturated with malaria, which I had contracte in the low southern country, and with calome with which the doctors had dosed me. The S. S. S. drove out the maiaria entirely and cleansed my blood of all calomel. I would not be without a bottle of S. S. S. in my house, as a general and perfect blood puri-fier, for $50. T. P. Jones. fler, for $50.
